

July 31, 2010

It was a little rainy today but the fish were biting. We ended up 10 for 16 or 17 this morning and lost a heartbreaker after a 40 minute battle on leadcore. Fishing has been good with a couple slow days mixed in. There were a lot of fish out front and to the South today. Hopefully they will stick around. Everything seemed to be working copper, core, riggers and divers all took fish. I just had a cancellation for Friday, Aug 2nd that I need to fill. I also have some other dates in August that are still open. Shoot me an email if you would like to get out fishing.
