

April 16, 2007 Update

Spring is trying to fight its way in but winter isn't going quietly. There is still snow on the ground but the weather is mild and it should be gone soon. Hopefully for good, this time. Fished the little river Saturday morning and caught a nice spawned out hen. She hit like a freight train and put up a good fight. That was the highlight of the weekend. Spent the rest of it stuck in a swamp. Got the truck buried up to the frame and ended up having to leave it over night. My brother and a friend came out on Sunday and we were able to pull it out with a come along. Could have saved myself a lot of trouble if I had one with me in the first place. I learned a valuable lesson about driving through water filled ruts without first checking their depth. Looking forward to turkey season and getting out for my first ever turkey hunt.
