

May 19, 2007 Report

Spent the day working on the boat and got it put in. I am heading down to the Tigers game tomorrow so I have friends keeping an eye on her. I am always a bit nervous when it first goes in. I still have a lot of work to get done but look forward to getting out for a shakedown cruise. Fishing sounded slow again today. The boats I talked to had a few browns and lakers. Hopefully the water warms soon and things pick-up. If you are interested in getting out, give me a call and I'll let you know if the fishing has improved.
