

August 6, 2007 Report

Boat traffic in Manistee has really picked up. Fishing remains good to excellent depending on where you fish on any particular day. This weekend's east wind also has the fish scattered as far as depth goes. Our last two fish yesterday came within minutes of each other. One was a 17 pounder that hit a Hey Baby spoon on 5 colors of leadcore and the other was a big male that hit a white hootch and KRW fly 110 down on the center rigger. The fish are moving into the area in good numbers and the fishing will get even better as we move deeper into August. I still have the morning of August 11 (this Saturday) open due to a cancellation. Give me a call if you want to get out fishing.
