

August 18, 2007 Report

We had a great day out on the lake today with a nice group of guys. We did some catching and quite a bit of fishing. Had a number of fish that just didn't want to stay hooked for some reason including a couple of heart breakers that got close enough to give us a look but then shook the hook and took off. Still sent the guys home with a cooler full of fillets and a lot of good memories. Big white hootch with a KRW aquagold fly was hot on a low diver 75 back. Plugs off the riggers were good set 25 - 50 down. The Stinger mag natural born killer has been good for me on 10 colors of lead core all year long.
