

May 6, 2008

Well the boat is one step closer to getting in the water. We moved it from storage in Kaleva down to River Road where it will be receiving a fresh coat of bottom paint and a good scrubbing. We also need to replace the packing in the stuffing boxes before it hits the water. Spring is here and I am getting the itch to get out on the lake. Reports on browns are slow for the most part. A few are being taken along with lake trout and an occasional king. The water still needs to warm up before the Spring King action gets going out on the shelf. Thanks to all of you who have already booked for next year. If you are planning to come up but haven't reserved your date yet please give me a call.