

July 28, 2009

Fishing was tough for us on Sunday but our group claim they had a great time. The fishing was SLOW and the seas were rough. Fortunately, the company was good and we enjoyed some great stories along the way. What a difference a day can make. Monday was a beautiful day and the fish were biting again. We never had a fast bite but picked away at them until we had a nice box of fish. Hopefully the lake will stabilize a little and the Kings will begin to show up in consistent numbers. The fish are good sized this year but are spread out in small pockets. When you hit a fish you need to start thinking about turning around and getting back on them. My best set up recently has been a Blue Spin Dr with a KRW Aquagold fly on a wire diver.